

Elysium Analytics Service Consumption Table

Consumption

Generally. The Elysium Analytics Service is a cloud data analytics platform provided by Elysium Analytics (“EA”, “we”, “us”, “our”) to EA customers (each a “Customer”, “you”, “your”) as a service which consumes resources for distinct functions as set forth herein and hosted in different geographical regions (“Regions”) by Snowflake (“Snowflake”) and by certain third-party cloud providers (“Cloud Providers”), as described more fully in your agreement with EA (“Agreement”) and the Documentation. Customer Data is uploaded into Customer’s account on the EA Service (“Account”). Customer can create and manage Analytics Services on EA Services and Snowflake virtual warehouses (each, a “Virtual Warehouse”) as needed to combine and process Customer Data from Storage (“Virtual Warehouse Services”). As set forth in the tables below “Azure,” “AWS,” and “GCP” each refer to the Cloud Providers, Microsoft Corporation, Amazon Web Services, Inc., and Google LLC, respectively.

Credits

Compute (Virtual Warehouse Services). Usage of EA Services is charged on the basis of consumption of credits on the corresponding Snowflake Virtual Warehouses (“Snowflake Credits”) for the operation of EA Service. One Snowflake Credit consumed equals one EA Credit consumed. Virtual Warehouses use Snowflake Credits at certain rates based on the effective size¹ of the Virtual Warehouse while the applicable Virtual Warehouse is in operation, as set forth in the EA Credit Table below, as determined by Customer. When a Virtual Warehouse is suspended, it does not use any Snowflake Credits. When a Virtual Warehouse is started or resumed, a minimum of one minute’s worth of Snowflake Credits will be consumed. Thereafter, Virtual Warehouses will be charged on a per second basis, rounded up to the nearest whole second.

While in On Demand, your Credit pricing is as set forth in Table 2 (On Demand Credit Pricing). Capacity Credit Pricing is set forth in your Order Form and is based on applying the EA Credit Discount in the Order Form to EA's then-current On Demand Credit Price for the applicable Edition and Region. Purchased Capacity may be applied toward any of your Accounts on the EA Service. EA will provide you with monthly statements of usage, in arrears.

Additional Accounts. Your Order Form sets forth the Edition and Region to which you have subscribed. You may request additional Accounts through the Snowflake Service or by emailing support@elysiumanalytics.ai. You may apply the Capacity purchased in an Order Form toward additional Accounts provided that pricing for (a) additional Accounts that are on the same Edition and Region as set forth in such Order Form will be at the prices set forth in that Order Form; and (b) additional Accounts that are on other available Editions and Regions will be at EA's then-current On Demand Credit Price for such Edition and Region, less the EA Credit Discount set forth in such Order Form. While in On Demand, additional Accounts will be at the applicable pricing set forth in this document.

Changes to this EA Service Consumption Table. This EA Service Consumption Table may be updated from time to time. EA will use reasonable efforts to provide advance notice via email or through the EA Service of material changes, but the changes shall be effective on the date that EA announces they are effective. If any change to Table 1 (EA Credit Table) materially increases the EA Credits required to use the EA Service, you may terminate the applicable Order Form upon written notice to EA and receive a refund of any prepaid and unused Capacity that you have purchased. Private Previews may be subject to different pricing, which will be set forth in the Private Preview Documentation if you choose to use it.

Any capitalized terms used but not defined herein shall have the meaning set forth in the Agreement or the Documentation, as applicable.
